There is not a fast way to learn quality laser training. It is why the only way to become great at this craft is to invest the time in live training from an accredited and approved academy. The risks are too high to do bad work at the total expense of the client.

There is the risk of learning from an online course or from youtube or a prerecorded video.

Welcome

See you soon

I built my clinic to become one of the top clinics in the Denver metro area for our medspa menu. After meeting many prospective clients begging us for help with poorly completed treatments at other local practices, our team added to our mission to help other professionals. Our goal with the academy is to gift the world elite esthetic professionals. Our students learn the techniques our clients love. Every technique we teach is safe for the integrity of the skin and has proven to give results that are quality and long-lasting.

40 HOUR LASER TRAINING TREATMENTS

The following laser procedures will be taught in our course:

- IPL (INTENSE PULSE LIGHT)
- RF MICRONEEDLING
- LASER HAIR REMOVAL TREATMENTS YOU WILL BE PERFORMING:
 - VASCULAR LESIONS
 - WRINKLES
 - LASER HAIR REMOVAL
 - NON-ABLATIVE SKIN REJUVENATION
 - ABLATIVE SKIN RESURFACING
 - BENIGN PIGMENTED LESIONS (HYPERPIGMENTATION TREATMENT)
 - LASER TATTOO REMOVAL
 - RADIO FREQUENCY MICRONEEDLING

VASCULAR LESIONS

Both lasers and IPL are used in vascular lesion and vein treatment. In general, IPL is good for general skin redness while the laser is ideal for targeted spider vein or vascular lesion reduction. Light-based treatments can minimize vascular lesions and veins in as little as a single session, depending on the situation. The heat forces vein closure, so the blood is rerouted and the patient gradually disposes of the vein tissue naturally.

WRINKLES

Ablative And Non-Ablative Treatments

RF MICRONEEDLING

Fractional skin treatment that stimulates collagen production.

LASER HAIR REMOVAL

Lasers remove hair using a single concentrated beam of light, while IPL hair removal uses scattered light pulses at multiple wavelengths. Both can be effective for hair removal, but the best choice for each patient can depend on their hair color and skin tone.

NON-ABLATIVE SKIN REJUVENATION

Non-ablative skin rejuvenation treats a wide range of skin concerns like hyperpigmentation and rough texture by stimulating collagen growth under the skin. It doesn't remove the skin, and is thus considered a mild skin rejuvenation treatment. There are non-ablative skin lasers, as well as IPL devices.

ABLATIVE SKIN RESURFACING

Ablative skin resurfacing removes the top layer of skin to expose new undamaged skin. An ablative laser also stimulates collagen growth to help with wrinkles, acne scars, and general skin smoothing. Ablative skin resurfacing is a laser procedure that often requires some amount of downtime afterward.

BENIGN PIGMENTED LESIONS (HYPERPIGMENTATION TREATMENT)

Hyperpigmentation, such as age spots, can be treated with either IPL or lasers, as the imperfection lies in the top layer of skin. The light sources can rapidly destroy the accumulated pigment, which will then gradually grow flaky and fall off in the coming weeks.

LASER TATTOO REMOVAL

Laser tattoo removal can be complex because there are so many variables. The ink color, depth of the ink, the size of the tattoo, and other factors all play a role in laser tattoo removal. In most cases, laser tattoo removal requires multiple sessions over a period of months to provide ideal results.
